

during covid-19 and beyond

GIVE BLOOD

1) If you are 17 or older (and your parents give you permission), you can donate blood. There is a high need for blood right now. Go to the main Red Cross website to find a blood donation site in your area https://www.redcrossblood.org/

GIVE FOOD

2) More people are accessing food banks right now and there are shortages. Monetary donations are the safest way to help. Go to the Montana Food Bank Network to donate or to find your local food bank https://mfbn.org/

3) Help deliver meals to people who can't go out of their homes. Contact your local Meals on Wheels chapter to find out how to volunteer. Practice safe handling and distancing.

4) Consider grocery shopping or doing other errands for your neighbors who can't leave their homes or who are fearful of leaving. Practice safe handling and distancing.

5) Buy restaurant gift cards and donate to people in need https://www.giftly.com/

GIVE MASKS

6) There are shortages of protective masks for health care workers and others. You can make and donate them. Find out how below:

Follow the instructions here https://freesewing.org/docs/patterns/fu/instructions/ or listen to a YouTube video from Joann's Fabrics https://youtu.be/VgHrnS6n4iA.

Then go to the deaconess website to find out how and where to donate your masks https://deaconess.com/How-to-make-a-Face-Mask/Mask-Donations

GIVE TO YOUR PETS

7) There are staffing shortages in pet shelters, but the pets still need attention. Consider volunteering at your local shelter. Pets are not contagious, but they may be scared, especially if their owners can't take care of them.

GIVE LOVE

8) Nursing home residents cannot accept visitors which can be lonely and scary. Some nursing homes have started virtual pen pal exchanges. Contact your local nursing home and ask about starting one. Here is an example of one in Pittsburgh

GIVE VISION

9) Be My Eyes is an app that connects people who see with those with low or no vision. You can help people with vision problems navigate their worlds https://www.bemyeyes.com/
